This two-day event will occur at the JW Marriott Ihilani Resort and Spa at Ko'Olina on O'ahu. The beautiful resort setting will provide an excellent venue for celebration, inspiration, innovation, education and relaxation. This year's event will feature a two-day trade and equipment show along with the popular farmer-to-farmer speed dating, technical workshops and lively policy discussions. The theme of Celebrating Change will be carried throughout the event with opportunities to look at how far we've come, enjoy the fruits of our labor and participate in activities that highlight best practices for 21st century agriculture. We are also reviving the awards presentations and planning post conference farm tours. Our plenary keynote speakers will share global and national perspectives on some of the most innovative and sustainable agricultural practices. On Friday the US Department of Agriculture is sponsoring a workshop on Biofuels and biomass opportunities for Hawaii's farmers and the Hawaii Rural Development Council will be developing a plan to strengthen rural communities throughout Hawaii.
